

German WWII Marschstiefel (Tall Boots) Evaluation

The grading of the suppliers listed here is based solely on the personal judgment of Doug Strong. No insult is intended, nor does it reflect the opinions of any reenactment organization. The boots have been placed in three tiers. The list is made with US buyers in mind. All prices have been converted into US dollars at a March 2026 exchange rate. Recent changes to tariff laws will impact the actual prices paid by US buyers. This is not included in the prices presented here in most cases. This evaluation does not take into account makers that have changed their designs multiple times and only accounts for the newest version as pictured on their website. Some makers may also have old stock from earlier runs with which they are still filling orders. It may also be possible that companies have changed their designs and not changed the photos on their websites.

Nestof	Poland-Maker	1	2	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grain shaft and flesh vamps. • Correct steel hobnails • Pegged soles • Natural dyeable leather • Excellent construction • Correct steel heel irons. • Available in three color choices Also available from them on eBay as well as Soldier of Fortune (though SOF claims them to be made by Richard Underwood. The boots pictured are clearly made by Nestof) Nestof also carries Fredericci's off-the-shelf boots.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Possibility of shipping delays due to international shipping. (My pair only took 6 days which is as fast as most US sellers!) • For the last few years people have lost quite a few hobnails, and had other structural issues. My personal experience with their low boots is quite different. My pair has lasted a long time and is quite comfortable. I have recently seen an increase in boots with blow outs of the sides of boots where the sole is attached to the upper. I have lowered the grade from A to B to reflect this. 	B	$205
SM Wholesale	USA-Vendor	2	1.5	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Grain Shaft and flesh vamps • Can be ordered in black or natural • Can be ordered without the Zamak hobnails. • typically delivered blackened • Soles are fully and securely pegged. • Has half soles • Good looking boots 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Zamak headed hobnails with steel shanks (Zinc Aluminum alloy). My recommendation is as follows.

1. Buy from a top-tier maker if at all possible. Their price is VERY similar to a tier two dealer and their quality and authenticity are far superior. My recommendation would be Lederarsenal above all if you have time to wait for custom boots. If you need boots quickly, then off the shelf boots from At The Front is the best choice.

3. If budget is the biggest concern then consider a tier two pair and have a skilled cobbler (such as myself or Chris Chase) fix them and make them wearable for you. I personally like the boots from Hessen Antique very much as they are easy to repair and maintain. I have recommended these boots for members of my family. I have also personally bought boots for my own use from Chronicle Militaria and Crossley Co.
